DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species of Poloxamer polyol

Species of Polyhydric alcohol

Species of Isotonifying agents

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species of poloxamer polyol, a single species of polyhydric alcohol and a single species of isotonifying agent to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:
Species of Poloxamer polyol, Species of Polyhydric alcohol, and Species of Isotonifying agents.

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 11, 15 and 19.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of the instant invention is a composition of erythropoietin (EPO) that comprises a therapeutically effective amount of EPO, a pharmaceutically acceptable pH buffering system, a poloxamer polymer and a polyhydric alcohol. Rosenthal, et al., in WO 02/00171, has disclosed such a special technical feature. The cited reference discloses an aqueous composition (page 9, line 24-25) for EPO in the presence of POE-POP block polymers such as pluronic F68 (page 11, line 14) and in the presence of glycerol (page 14, line 32). Therefore, the special technical feature of the instant invention is not a contribution over the art and hence the application lacks unity of invention.
